

PHILOSOPHY

The NACS Foundation unifies and builds on NACS members' philanthropic priorities—amplifying the industry's power to propel tomorrow's industry leaders, in neighborhoods of all sizes, across America and beyond.

The convenience and fuel retailing industry has been built and sustained from individuals from all walks of life—many of our convenience industry leaders started their careers at the store level. Through hard work and commitment to learning, these employees followed career paths to senior leadership positions.

Since 1994, the NACS Foundation Future Fund's scholarship program has been providing convenience and fuel retailers a way to retain, reward, and develop the next generation of industry innovators within their companies. These scholarships help develop future retail leaders by providing them with $3,000 toward tuition costs at undergraduate or community college institutions. Each recipient will also receive a stipend to attend the 2023 NACS Show in Atlanta at the Georgia World Congress Center, October 3-6, where they will be recognized during a special evening ceremony and given the first-hand opportunity to learn more about exciting career paths in the industry.

The NACS Foundation Scholarship honors industry icon Jim Yates, founder of E-Z Mart Stores, former NACS Chairman of the Board, and a pioneer in the industry. In 1999, Altria Distribution Group's donation expanded the scholarship to honor David Erickson, former CEO of Erickson Oil Products.

The NACS Foundation, a 501(c)3, which serves as a point of centralization and catalyzation – amplifying the reach, resonance, and impact of our supplier and convenience and fuel retail members' tremendous charitable efforts.

FUTURE FUND

The Future Fund, one of the NACS Foundation's five signature program areas, propels tomorrow's industry leaders. Through this program, the NACS Foundation invests in future leaders through scholarship and internship programs offered to c-store member employees and their children.
